'Myth' screening will benefit local arts council

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Mahoosuc Arts Council has been selected as the beneficiary of a special sneak preview of "The Myth of Fingerprints." The film, which stars Noah Wyle, Roy Scheider and Blythe Danner, was filmed last year in Andover and Bethel.

"The Myth of Fingerprints" opened recently in Los Angeles and New York and is expected to begin a run at the Casablanca Cinema sometime in mid-November.

But local viewers who are willing to pony up $15 a ticket ($25 for a couple) won't have to wait that long -- a local sneak preview has been set for Oct. 14 at the Casablanca.

The proceeds will go to a good cause: the Mahoosuc Arts Council, a nonprofit organization that sponsors programs in the arts for

Rabies outbreak here was clustered

By ALISON ALOISIO

The rabies epidemic apparently lived up to its billing this summer -- at least in certain parts of the Bethel area.

"It seems to be hitting in pockets," said Kathy Jo Farren of the Bethel Animal Hospital. "If you don't live in that area, it's not a big deal -- but if you do, it's a very big deal."

Farren said BAH has not seen any cases of domestic animals testing positive for rabies. But there were several incidents of vaccinated domestic pets being attacked by or coming into contact with rabid animals.

In West Bethel, for instance, a dog went after a rabid fox that was chasing chickens.

The domestic animals involved in the incidents had booster shots and were quarantined for 45 days. Farren said the practice is currently seeing several pets from Mexico that were exposed.

One dog that had not had rabies shots was put down after being exposed, she said.

Mixed reports from ACOs

In Bethel, there have been seven incidents of domestic animals contacting rabid animals -- four of them in the village, according to Pam Konkright, animal control officer.

Konkright said most of the seven cases involved dogs contacting raccoons or foxes.

About two weeks ago, Bethel police chief Dale Bellman had to shoot a cat that was rabid.

Konkright said her impression of the epidemic is that it has not been as bad as predicted -- but, she said, "it's not over yet."

Everett Chase, ACO in Greenwood and Hanover, said he had en-

Mount Zircon Moon Tide Spring is the topic of Bennett's latest book

Nearly a century-and-a-half after it first opened to the public, the mysterious Moon Tide Spring on Mount Zircon near Rumford is about to yield up its secrets -- or at least some of them.

A long-awaited book-length study on the subject, written and compiled by Randall H. Bennett, curator of the Bethel Historical Society, is now at the printers and should be available before the end of the year.

Entitled "The Mount Zircon Moon Tide Spring: An Illustrated History," the new book is Bennett's tenth publication project and comes on the heels of a 500-page history of the Richardson Lakes region which was published by the Bethel Historical Society in 1995 with Bennett as editor.

Many people living in western Maine today have fond memories of growing up with Mount Zircon beverages, which were produced out of a large bottling plant in South Rumford until the early 1980s, but few realize that the famous spring which provided the water for these popular carbonated drinks had a long history of use well before the Rumford plant was built in 1922.

The Moon Tide Spring, originally called the "Milton Mineral Spring," was actually opened to the public in the late 1850s as part of a health spa (complete with a large wooden hotel) under the direction of Dexter D.W. Abbott, a cousin by marriage to Hiram Ricker of Poland Spring fame. Within weeks of the spa's opening, the spring water was being touted in newspapers as a cure-all for a wide variety of ailments, including some with names that have vanished from our vocabulary, such as dyspepsia, salt rheum, scrofula, and costiveness. By the mid-1860s,

Time is running out for input on Bethel comprehensive plan

By ALISON ALOISIO

Should voters approve rules to prevent another Rite Aid traffic scenario in Bethel?

Should action be taken to protect the town's scenic views from development?

Should the town consider measures to discourage people from building homes in the rural areas of town?

Should the possible presence of endangered species be considered in any development standards Bethel might adopt?

Those are just a few of the questions Bethel's Comprehensive Planning Committee wants townspeople to answer -- preferably at Tuesday's

Two public forums this month

public forum at the Crescent Park Elementary School.

"We want people to come to the forum and tell us what they think before they vote on the final plan at next year's annual Town Meeting," said Nancy Schlieper, Bethel's planning assistant.

The town currently has a comprehensive plan -- prepared in 1986 -- but it is very general and has few standards regarding land use.

The 1997 committee has been taking inventory of the town's resources over the past few months, with the help of John Maloney of AVCOG.

Some examples of what they have learned: Although Bethel's population remained steady between 1980 and 1990, the total number of dwelling units increased by 28 percent; the average sale price of homes increased from $66,000 in

Concerns raised again over the growing number of MDOT signs

By ALISON ALOISIO

In response to concerns that MDOT directional signs may be nudging visitors away from Bethel's Main Street, state Sen. Norm Ferguson is seeking a 60-day moratorium on further signage.

Ferguson (R-Hanover) and state Rep. Al Barth (R-Bethel) both attended a hastily-called meeting Monday, at which town officials and a pair of businesspeople expressed their worries about the signs. Concerns focused particularly on those located just south of town on Route 26.

"A number of the signs direct people across the Parkway," said Sally Taylor, who owns a bed & breakfast and antique business on Broad Street. "People don't know the village is here. You have to have customers, no matter how pretty you've painted up your shop."

A large green and white sign, installed this spring just south of town on Route 26, directs drivers to the Parkway with the words, "Recreational Area -- To 2 East -- Newry - Sunday River -- Next Right."

The sign was one of four put up as a result of a March meeting among MDOT, Newry and Sunday River Ski Resort officials.

MDOT has placed such signs in areas of the state where blue MDOT directional signs (for individual businesses) have proliferated -- hoping the businesses would then voluntarily take the blue signs down. As of last spring, there were a total of 136 blue signs in Bethel.

(Sunday River has removed three of its signs and is considering others, said spokesman Mike Bertie.)

Prior to the coming of the Parkway and the recent signs, said Taylor, motorists approaching the Cross Street turn could look ahead and see the beginning of Main Street and the "Bethel Business"

Bethel votes Monday on sewer-plant grant

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Bethel voters will be asked at a special Town Meeting Monday to approve a grant application to cover a small part of the cost of upgrading the town's sewer treatment plant.

The upgrade project is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $2.2 million, with funding coming from a variety of sources, including an Economic Development Agency grant ($300,000), Rural Development grant ($500,000), Rural Development loan ($750,000) and other borrowed funds.

All the amounts listed above are approximate, as details of the total package are still being worked out. For example, the recent survey of households connected to the sewer system revealed that their median income is just over $21,000 (or $1,000) below the amount indicated in a 1990 survey -- and that difference could qualify the town for a lower Rural Development loan rate and/or a larger grant amount.

Town Manager Phil Tarr is also exploring how the town could qualify for other "extremely low-cost money available through the DEP."

The piece of the package going to voters Monday is for a $200,000 Community Development Block Grant.

Police Station expansion

At this year's annual Town Meeting in June voters approved spending $4,375 to relocate the Bethel Police Station to the former Evans Notch Ranger District Headquarters on Route 2 -- but they also stipulated that before going ahead with such a move, the selectmen should seek more public input on the move.

The selectmen did that, and in the face of strong feeling that the police station should remain on Main Street, they decided not to move it, but to expand it into the Cole Block office space currently occupied by the W.J. Wheeler Insurance Agency.

THE REWARDS OF CIVIC CULTURE

To the Editor:

The recent study which measures and compares "civic culture" in the United States, ranks the State of Maine near the top of the list (fourth). According to the study, a civic culture has four characteristics: 1) participation in public affairs; 2) a strong belief in equality; 3) a willingness to trust one another; and 4) a willingness to join community groups such as social clubs or neighborhood watch associations.

Discussing these ideas, Iowa State University political science professor Tom Rice notes that civic societies promote healthy economies. Thus it would seem that Bethel has an advantage. Cooperative efforts are underway to keep Main Street and the village alive and healthy. Attractive new lighting, better directional signs and maps are some of the ideas being considered. The post office will stay on Main Street.

Our civic culture enables us to have a special community, but the real reward comes when we have a village where we can both live and work. We need our Main Street to be there for us in every sense of the word.

VICTORY FOR AVARICE

To the Editor:

Congratulations to P.N.G.T.S. for an auspicious takeover in East Bethel.

I have read literature on the negative effects the pipeline will have on the East Bethel community. Clare Plawlock was kind and gracious enough to come down to my home, when I asked, to show me excerpts from the FERC manual, various informative news articles and faxes. I also met Wally Hannigan through school and she has enlightened me on many issues.

I abhor the idea that I have no say on what happens to my property. I am forced to live on top of a potentially volatile high-pressure gas line without a choice. I shudder when I think of what will run only three feet below my children's feet as they play in their own front yard.

"Does anybody think they will benefit from this pipeline for household purposes?" Think again. This pipeline is being constructed for the avaricious intents of the paper mills.

"P.N.G.T.S.", in my opinion, stands for "pungent." The pungent smell of money and greed at the expense of the little people.

I have enjoyed being one of the little people in my microcosm I call Bethel, Maine. I'm afraid I will soon be living in a "North Conway." Progress is good, but too much progress in such a quaint New England town ruins a way of life I have come to relish.

It's like those people out in Albany who want to see the stellar display above their heads, to hear the crickets instead of the whir of traffic en route to the bingo hall. I would like to enjoy the beauty of my neighborhood, without the insidious flow of gas beneath my feet.

A VOTE FOR THE COMPACT

To the Editor:

I will be voting yes on Question 1, the Compact For Maine's Forest. As a forest industry worker and a member of the Pulp and Paperworkers' Resource Council, this positive solution to maintaining a sustainable forest is a welcome idea. A sustainable forest means that industry and the jobs provided will be here for the future. The Compact is an excellent beginning in achieving a balance between jobs and the environment.

It assures that Maine's large landowners will follow sound forestry practices and that reports on their progress will be available to the public. It sets a cap on the amount of clearcutting that the large landowners will be allowed to do -- a cap that is 75 percent lower than is allowed by current law. No clearcutting at all is to be allowed without going through a new and stringent permitting process. Regulations contained within the Compact apply throughout the entire state.

The Compact provides special provisions for small landowners. Included is a provision for education and technical assistance to help build the productivity and value of small woodlots. The means to assure that local harvesting ordinances remain fair and equitable to small woodlot owners is also provided. Passage of the Compact will help to assure continued access to Maine's private forest land by sportsmen and recreational users. The Compact is supported by many outdoor groups, including the Sportsmen's Alliance of Maine and the Sporting Camp Owners Association.

It makes good sense to vote yes on Question 1.

HAZARDOUS WASTE CLEAN-UP

To the Editor:

This is to thank everyone who participated in the annual Household Hazardous Waste Collection last Saturday. You not only made your own home a little safer, but you reduced the chance for future contamination of our groundwater, streams, and rivers.

For those who weren't able to participate this year, get a head start on next year by segregating all your no-longer-usable materials. Some of these can be disposed of safely without waiting for the next HHW collection.

Latex (water-based) paint is not classified as hazardous waste. The containers can be left open (away from children and pets) to let the contents slowly harden to a solid which can be included with regular trash.

Ordinary alkaline batteries can be included with regular trash. Used motor oil is accepted by several local garages for use in waste oil heaters. Used anti-freeze is also accepted by some garages for either on-site or off-site reclaiming. If your own garage doesn't do this, they will likely know who does.

In addition to your own home, how about considering a friend or relative who could use some help in cleaning out hazardous materials during the coming year?

Signs

MAIN STREET BYPASS?—Some businesspeople and town officials believe signs like this one are guiding potential business away from Main Street in Bethel.

District" sign posted there.

But Main Street is not as obvious from the Parkway turn -- and the business district sign has not been moved to the area of the Parkway.

Barb Testani, owner of the Village Sampler gift shop near the Bethel Common, said a number of Main Street businesspeople are putting their property up for sale.

"We're going to end up with not much here," she said.

Selectman Ruth Grover said several Main Street businesspeople told her the signage was hurting their business -- prompting her to raise the issue. The meeting was then called.

The added confusion from the large number of blue signs also does little for any individual business owner, some believed.

Ferguson compared the situation to a large number of political candidates putting out campaign signs in close proximity to each other. "They cancel each other out, and no one gets any exposure," he said.

Should town take over?

Phil Tarr, Bethel town manager, suggested researching what it would take for the town to self-administer the signs. Two years ago, at a special Town Meeting, Bethel voters narrowly defeated an ordinance that would have given the town power over the signage.

In Bridgton, where Tarr formerly served as town manager, the town placed a moratorium on the signs and eventually took over their administration.

"It took six or seven months to develop a new ordinance -- and it works," Tarr said.

Bridgton allows individual businesses to advertise on group sign boards. Tarr said if the current sign situation continues in Bethel, "it'll be worse than billboards."

Ferguson said he would put in a request to MDOT for a moratorium in Bethel until Dec. 1, to give the town time to look at alternatives.

Tarr suggested getting an outside consultant to look at the overall sign picture and make suggestions: "The survival of Main Street is important. We need some expertise to capture the traffic off the Parkway and send it down Main Street," he said.

Barth favored basic signage on the outskirts of town to direct people to the village and other general destinations, and kiosk-type signs located closer to the village to provide information about individual businesses.

Taylor also said she has spoken with other businesspeople who would like to see the "business district" sign reworded to read "Bethel Village Shops and Services."

"It would be a much more welcoming phrase," she said.

Those present also favored coordinating plans with the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce. The chamber plans to place at least three "Welcome to Bethel" signs on Routes 2 and 26, specifically pointing the way to the "Historic Village." The signs are scheduled to go up before the ground freezes, according to Robin Zinchuk, the chamber's executive director.

Monday's preliminary meeting will be followed by another on Oct. 15 at 6 p.m. at the Crescent Park School cafeteria. The Bethel Sign Committee and more business representatives are expected to attend that gathering.

Comp. plan

1990 to $98,000 in 1994; the service industry employs 55 percent of the area's labor force.

Committee members have taken that information and generated questions for residents, hoping to get direction in formulating a comprehensive plan. Tuesday's policy-forming meeting will be followed by another meeting on Oct. 21. The purpose of that gathering will be to come up with the specifics to enact the policies.

Recent planning issues point up the need for a new comprehensive plan, Schlieper believes.

For example, she said, if a comprehensive plan required minimum spacing between driveways, the debate about placing a Rite Aid store at the Route 2/Parkway intersection never would have gotten off the ground.

"If that (the rule) had been in there, there would have been no question where we would have gone in (Planning Board) meeting number one," said Schlieper. "It would have been 'no.'"

Planners and some residents are concerned that several driveways in close proximity to Rite Aid and the intersection will create traffic hazards.

Another recent issue involved the sewer service development charge required for new or change-of-use buildings using the sewer system.

Several would-be home daycare businesses were derailed by the cost of paying the one-time fee.

"If someone wanted to set up a daycare in their home for six children, the fee would be $1,080," said Schlieper.

And with increasing demand for daycare, the ripple effect of such a deterrent can be felt throughout the community, she said. One of the questions for the forum will be whether the impact of the imposition of the sewer system fee on economic development should be assessed.

Avoiding rural sprawl

With home construction increasing in the more rural areas of the community, the public service cost for school children transportation, roads and police and fire protection is also on the rise.

Townpeople will be asked if Bethel should provide incentives to encourage building closer to services.

The town of New Portland, for instance, has a point system that awards a building site close to town more points than one farther away. A minimum number of points is needed to obtain a building permit.

Another issue for forum-goers to consider is the protection of scenic views -- such as the Blake Farm fields just south of Bethel and the mountain view from the fields on Vernon Street.

The committee has identified 20 views in Bethel. The choices came from an assessment that considered only views visible from public roadways. Others identified were on Route 26 and the Middle Intervale, Northwest, East Bethel and Flat roads.

Another spotted owl?

A state program has compiled data on Maine's rare and endangered plant and animal species, which may or may not be found in Bethel. Some rare plant species include branching needlegrass, purple clematis, ground fir and a variety of pond weed.

Townpeople will be asked if the possible presence of such species should be considered in development standards.

"Do we want to create another spotted owl?" asked Schlieper. If species' possible presence is to be considered, she said, it's important to have a method for finding them.

Otherwise, said Schlieper, "Everyone who doesn't want land built on would scream 'needle grass,' pond weed."

Other topic areas to be discussed Tuesday are employment, education, outdoor recreation and commercial forestry.

The meeting begins at 7 p.m.

MANY WAYS TO GIVE

To the Editor:

A wide variety of giving levels are among the ways that those wishing to help the Bethel Historical Society establish its Center for Regional and Local History can consider. The site for the proposed center, now under a purchase-and-sales agreement, is owned by the Bethel Inn and adjoins the present headquarters of the society, the Dr. Moses Mason House on Broad Street. Acquisition of this site would make it possible for the society to have more adequate space for exhibits, research, collection storage, museum store, old-time craft operations and educational activities. Since Bethel is located three hours from Burlington, Vt., and also three hours from Bangor, it seemed natural for the society to expand its focus to this part of northern New England. The organization already has extensive collections relating to northern New Hampshire and western Maine. The proposed center will feature collections relating to northern New England along with special programming, exhibits, conferences, and educational activities relating to the region.

To make this all happen, the society must raise $900,000 in the next three years. The goal is to be fully established in these new quarters by the time of the new millennium 2001. The project can be divided into three phases each projected to cost $300,000, one to purchase the building, next to renovate it for society purposes, and third to endow it for future operations.

Donors of $10,000 or more will be listed in the entry of the building as Dr. Nathaniel Tuckerman True Associates, named for Bethel's first historian. Those donating between $5,000 and $9,999 will be designated as Enoch Foster Partners in honor of Enoch Foster, who once lived in the house and later served on the Maine Supreme Court. The Agnes Hastings Straw Circle will be for those giving between $2,500 and $4,999 and is named for another resident of the house, who left the building next door to the Bethel Library. Those contributing between $1,000 and $2,499 will be listed as Dr. William B. Lapham Honor Society members in commemoration of Bethel's best-known nineteenth century historian, who wrote the first published history of the town. Those giving $999 in honor of the society's occupancy of the Foster-Straw house in 1999 will be designated as members of the 21st Century Club. Robert Chapman Founders honoring those giving between $500 and $998 pays tribute to the man who built the house about 1860. All others giving up to $499 will be listed as Friends of the Foster-Straw House.

Donors of $25,000 or more will be able to designate a room in the house to bear their name or a name of an ancestor or loved one. There will also be opportunities to donate furniture and equipment as well. Pledges can be spread over a three-year period if desired.

Corporations and foundations are also being solicited in support of this project.

Those wishing to learn more about the proposed center are urged to call the society at 824-2908 or 1-800-824-2910 or by e-mail (history@bdc.bethel.me.us). Tax-deductible contributions can be made in cash, stock, securities, or other forms of planned giving. Volunteers willing to serve on the Capital Campaign Committee or to help in the society office on this project are also needed. Those wishing to offer services should call one of the numbers listed above.

With a membership over 1,000 strong in 47 states, four Canadian provinces, and several European nations, the Bethel Historical Society is western Maine's largest and most comprehensive historical organization. Operating throughout the year, the society offers monthly meetings, special events, exhibits, lectures, educational programs for all ages, and publications. Its Broad Street headquarters, the Dr. Moses Mason House, contains a period house museum, meeting space, and an outstanding research collection for genealogists, scholars and others interested in the region.

Martha's to become restaurant again?

BETHEL--The Planning Board gave developer Bob Laux the go-ahead last week to submit a site plan for a restaurant at the former Martha's Restaurant on lower Main Street, adjacent to the ambulance barn. Laux would have to join the property to an adjacent parcel in order to provide enough parking. A preliminary drawing he submitted to the board showed enough parking spaces for a 75-seat restaurant. Planners expressed concern that on occasions when the parking lot might be full, patrons would park on the ambulance barn property, possibly blocking access by rescue personnel. Others worried about the possible effect on the Main/Railroad streets intersection. Planning assistant Nancy Schlieper suggested reducing the number of allowable seats in the restaurant, to ensure there would be enough parking on-site.

Sidewalk ordinance proposed

WOODSTOCK--Selectmen will consider a new sidewalk parking ordinance Oct. 7. The ordinance reads, in part: "No person shall ride, drive, wheel, park or operate any motorized or motor driven vehicle upon any sidewalk except at a permanent or temporary driveway. No person shall ride or drive any horse or other animal upon any sidewalk, except at a permanent or temporary driveway." Violations may result in a fine of between $50 and $100 dollars. Vern Maxfield, town manager, said the proposed ordinance was prompted by requests from residents living on Route 26 from the Village Store south. "People have been parking on the sidewalks," Maxfield said. "We put out signs, but without an ordinance they're of little value." While the decision rests with the selectmen, they will hear public comment prior to voting at the 6 p.m. meeting, to be held at the town office.

Property tax rate lowered

BETHEL--The Board of Assessors reduced the town's property tax rate last week, from $14.65 per $1,000 of property value to $14.55. The board was able to cut the mill rate because of approximately $5.2 million in new valuation that went onto Bethel's tax rolls. About $2 million of that was personal property at the P.H. Chadbourne lumber mill, which expanded its operations. The Norway Savings Bank building also contributed new valuation. About 2,200 tax bills were scheduled to be sent out Monday. The bills are due Oct. 1. If they are not paid by Nov. 15, the town will charge interest.

Rite Aid OK'd

BETHEL--The Planning Board last week approved an application from Rite Aid to build a store at the intersection of Route 2 and the Parkway. Fourteen conditions were attached to the approval, including one that reads: "Within 18 months of completion, if there are a series of traffic accidents, which MDOT can attribute to the new Rite Aid entrance, and/or traffic delays, Rite Aid will pay for a light at the intersection of Route 2 and the Parkway, the cost of which will be shared with money in escrow for such a purpose from Bethel Station."

As is pipeline

PORTLAND--The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission last week issued a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity for the Portland Natural Gas Transmission System's proposed pipeline from Canada to Massachusetts. The certificate, which also covers the proposed lateral line from Albany Township to Jay, was the major regulatory hurdle the $302 million project needed to clear. The approval had been expected: PNGTS received preliminary approval on non-environmental matters on July 31, 1996, and last month FERC published a Final Environmental Impact Statement, concluding that the project could be constructed without adverse impact. Also as expected, the route approved by FERC for the lateral line follows the East Bethel Road (as described in The Citizen, Sept. 16). Final details for the route (for example, whether the pipeline will be moved across the street to avoid the Intervale Road of Wally Hannigan and her family) are still being worked out, according to PNGTS spokesman Stan Usovich.

Ex-Bethel man sentenced to 16 years

PORTLAND--A former Bethel man was sentenced to 16 years in prison last week for possession of a firearm by a convicted felon. Gary Roshto Jr., 29, pled guilty to the firearms charge in April. According to U.S. District Court records, he burglarized Carl Nolan's mobile home in Bethel in November 1996. He stole a rifle and sold it to an Auburn pawn shop. Because of his criminal record, Roshto qualified as an armed career criminal. A person previously convicted of three or more violent felonies, who possesses a firearm, faces a mandatory minimum sentence of 15 years. He has previous convictions for three burglaries in Oxford County. In an unrelated case, Roshto has pled guilty in Cumberland County Superior Court to state charges of robbery and aggravated assault, and is awaiting sentencing.

Greenwood Town Meeting scheduled

GREENWOOD--A special Town Meeting will take place Oct. 21 to elect a selectman to fill the seat being vacated by Harry Swan. The meeting will be held at the Town Office at 7 p.m. Albert Curtis is a candidate for the position, according to selectman chair Marie Bartlett. Swan, a lifelong resident of Greenwood is moving to Paris. At the same meeting voters will be asked to approve a minor wording change in the town's Floodplain Control Ordinance. The change, according to Bartlett, is to correct an omission in the present wording.

Stump dump move approved

GREENWOOD--The Maine Department of Environmental Protection has issued a license which will allow the Greenstock Stump Dump (which serves the town of Greenwood and Woodstock) to be relocated from Greenwood City to the transfer station facility on Route 26 in Locke Mills. A new gravel area, concrete slab and circular road will be constructed to accommodate containers for brown and white goods. The construction contract (for up to $51,000, with some details still to be negotiated) was awarded Tuesday to Pratt and Sons of Mechanic Falls. The new facility should be ready by year's end, according to Greenwood selectmen.

Selectmen discuss library complaint

ANDOVER--Selectmen took no action following an executive session with librarian Christine Mulvaney, in which they discussed a complaint against her. The nature of the complaint was not made public. After emerging from the 20-minute session, Mills said the board would like the library Board of Trustees to establish a consistent system for handling complaints in the future. Problems, he said, should be dealt with by the full 12-member library board rather than by individuals. Trustee Lidah Iles, who also attended the selectmen's meeting, said the board is in the process of reworking library policies, and will address the issue. The board, she said, "dropped the ball" on the incident with Mulvaney.

Fall Festival Weekend coming

NEWRY--Sunday River Ski Resort will hold its annual Fall Festival Oct. 11-13. The resort will host the Blue Mountain Arts & Crafts Fair, a children's carnival (pony rides, mini-golf, games, etc.) and a mountain bike race on both Saturday and Sunday. A fireworks display is scheduled for Saturday night.

Driving dynamics class offered

BETHEL--A Maine Driving Dynamics Course is scheduled for Bethel in October. Classes will be held at Telstar High School on Oct. 14 and 21 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Those completing the course will receive a three-point credit on their driving record. The course covers accident-avoidance techniques with films, discussion and lectures. Students must register in advance by calling the Adult Education office at 824-2780.

Rabies

countered one case in each town since the spring.

In Hanover, a dog had contact with a rabid skunk, and had to be put to sleep when the owner couldn't prove the dog had been vaccinated.

In Greenwood, a dog had contact with a rabid raccoon. That pet, however, had been vaccinated and was quarantined.

Woodstock did not see any domestic pet/rabid wild animal incidents this summer, according to ACO Marsha McKenna. She said she believes people are keeping their pets close to home -- and vaccinated. "They know what's going on and they don't want it to happen to them," she said.

Newry also had no recorded cases of pet/rabid wild animal contact during the summer, according to ACO Alan Fleet.

Fleet said there have been several foxes found dead or nearly dead, probably from rabies. Two were near Sunday River Ski Resort, one in Coombs Village, one on the Monkey Brook Road and several in a field in North Newry.

Fleet said he believes many raccoons and skunks died from the disease in early spring. "You don't see as many hit by the road now," he said.

That theory may be indirectly supported by reports to the Bethel Animal Hospital about domestic animals being eaten by coydogs.

Farren said the coydogs may be going after pets because their regular diet of skunks and raccoons isn't available. "We've had a lot of people reporting cats missing," she said.

One person, said Farren, actually saw a coydog drag a small pet dog into the woods.

It can take up to six months for rabies symptoms to appear, Farren said.

The bigger picture

The state's Health and Environmental Testing Lab has recorded 38 positive rabies tests for Oxford County so far in 1997. That compares to 26 in all of 1996.

Of Maine's 16 counties, Oxford has the third-highest tally of cases. Cumberland is first with 64, followed by Androscoggin with 39.

The statewide total so far is 183, compared to 131 in 1996.

Moon spring

wishing to escape city life along the East Coast.

The mountain spa survived the Civil War, but the hotel and its outbuildings were destroyed by fire in 1872 and not rebuilt. Even after this setback, the clear spring water continued to be shipped out by rail, to the relief of those who were now convinced of its medicinal qualities.

It was not until around 1890, however, that the odd fluctuations in the spring's flow -- the so-called moon tide effect -- were first noted and brought to the public's attention. This peculiarity, seen in relatively few springs, offered up an ideal advertising tool that was taken full advantage of by the spring's twentieth century owners and eventually brought the spring world-wide notoriety.

"The spring has fascinated historians and scientists for well over a hundred years," said Bennett, who began his own research in the early 1970s. After authoring several magazine articles about the spring, he went on to other subjects, but the discovery of some valuable nineteenth century accounts, as well as a large collection of photos taken at the site from the 1850s to the 1930s, led him to delve even further into its past.

"I think the most interesting part of the work was trying to separate fact from fiction, which wasn't easy since the spring's owners developed numerous folk tales to promote and sell the water," Bennett said.

According to Bennett, previous writers have perpetuated certain myths associated with the Moon Tide Spring by not recognizing them as elaborate advertising schemes that were developed by the spring's owners. "For example, Indians have long been credited with discovering the healing qualities of the Moon Tide Spring," stated Bennett, "but such stories can only be traced back to the early 1920s, when the Mount Zircon Spring Water Company was in the process of tremendous expansion and saw no harm in using such tall tales to draw attention to its products.

Likewise, Dexter Abbott's naming of the mountain on which the spring is located had a lot more to do with images conjured up by the word "Zircon" than with actual mineral discoveries made there. And explanations for the moon tide effect, at least until a scientific study was carried out in 1986, relied mostly on legend and hearsay than on actual investigations of the periodic changes in the spring's flow."

The results of the 1986 tests, Bennett said, "were interesting, but not absolutely conclusive. We still don't have a complete explanation for the changes in the spring's flow, but it looks like a good many of the questions have now been answered." For those answers, people will want to read the third chapter of the new history, entitled "Bottling the Water of Health."

Those interested in more information about this soon-to-be-published book, including a pre-publication flyer, should write to "Mount Zircon History," P.O. Box 891, Bethel, ME 04217.

students and adults in the greater Bethel area.

The preview is being jointly sponsored by the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce, the Maine Film Commission and the film's producers.

The selection of the Mahoosuc Arts Council as the beneficiary of the event was a joint decision of the three sponsors, said Robin Zinchuk, BACC executive director.

"We all felt that the Arts Council was the most appropriate recipient," Zinchuk said. "And the chamber is delighted that Bethel has been put on the map in another way."

Vicky Rackliffe, executive director of the arts organization, said: "We are thrilled and very appreciative of this generous gift to the community and Mahoosuc Arts. The impact of this gesture is an enduring statement of support for the arts and the creative process."

One-hundred and ninety tickets are available for the screening, on a first-come, first-served basis. Tickets must be paid for in advance; there will be no cash collected on the evening the film is shown.

The film will be shown at 6:30 p.m. and preceded by a 5:30 reception (the actors have commitments elsewhere and are not expected to attend).

For tickets or further information call the chamber at 824-2282.

Bethel

by Arlene Brown &amp; Ginny Keniston

Mechanic Street and its new sidewalk were paved last week. It's great to have a smooth road to drive on after months when the street has been torn up during the installation of new water and sewer lines and rebuilding of the street.

Fran and Dick Bernier's dog, Dascha von Olgemeister, passed her Schutzhund I level with very nice scores at the Western Maine Schutzhund Club's fall trials on the weekend of Sept. 20-21. German SV judge Herr Peter Dittmeier presided throughout the weekend, and the Berniers hosted the club's visit to Bethel. A total of 22 dog/handler teams, from Florida, Canada, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine, participated at various levels of the Schutzhund sport and were cheered on by approximately 100 enthusiastic working-dog spectators. Tracking trials were held in fields belonging to Arthur Ladd, Rumford Point; obedience and protection portions were held on the upper field of Telstar Regional High School; and endurance trials (12.5-mile test where a dog trots beside bicycle and rider) were held on the Flat Road, West Bethel.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Paine were weekend guests of his parents, Bud and Mary Paine.

Miss Arlene Brown is visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Blake McKay.

Linda MacDormand, Hampton, N.H., spent the weekend at the home of her brother and family, the George Nickersons. On Saturday evening, she took her mother, Evelyn Nickerson, out for dinner at the Yokohama in Gorham, N.H., to celebrate her 82nd birthday.

The Drama Club at Telstar is busy rehearsing for their fall play, "Alibis," directed by Kathy Burke. Performances will be Nov. 19 and 20.

On Friday, Sept. 26, the National Honor Society at Telstar hosted a '60s and '70s Sadie Hawkins Dance. Bill Morion was the DJ.

Wayne and Carolyn Curren of Sarasota, Fla., are guests of Tim and Judy Kersey.

Members of the Maine Optometric Association met at the Bethel Inn Convention Center on the weekend. The association meets four times a year for educational purposes.

Danny Kuzyk, Mark McPherson, and David Pratt, members of the Bethel Fire Department, attended a School of Instruction at Boothbay Harbor last week. Danny received instruction in operating fire truck pumps and in water supply priorities; Mark and David were instructed in vehicle extraction and operating the jaws of life.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold McLean of Lewiston recently spent the day with her father, Ronald Stevens.

Priscilla Hansen and friend, Thomas Edes, of Dover-Foxcroft, spent Saturday with her parents, the Lindley Wiedens. On Sunday, daughters Sylvia and husband Donald LaFlamme of Vienna, and Cynthia and husband Richard Paine of Scarborough visited at the Wieden home.

Edna York, Gould Class of 1927, won the canoe in the Gould Academy Alumni Raffle Saturday.

On Friday night, the Gould classes of 1936 and 1938 joined the Class of 1937 for dinner at the Town & Country in Gorham, N.H. Thirty-three enjoyed the event, planned by the '37 class agent, Erland Wentzell.

The Gould Academy Class of 1967 held a social gathering at the Carter Ski Lodge in Middle Intervale, which was organized by class agent Dick Paine.

Don and Ruth Feeney spent the weekend in Wellesley, Mass., with son John and his family. John is an associate with the law firm Goodwin, Proctor and Hoar. Two other Bethel natives have joined the firm. They are Dori Chadbourn Gouin, daughter of Ted Chadbourn, and Kevin Davis, son of Mac and Nancy Davis.

Marge Wilsey of Silverdale, Penn., visited Jane and Archie Young this past week.

Beautiful autumn weather added much to the enjoyment of the Gould Academy Alumni Weekend. Among the many former local residents (with spouses, etc.) in town for the festivities were: Stephen Trinward, Norma Hunt Besse, Jacqueline MacFarlane Wilkins, Amy Penner Stroud, Dr. Donald Christie, Alan Curtis, Marilyn Boyker Hammett, Janice Lord Mott, Ed Dorion, Lee Carroll, Edward Holt, Marilyn Mace Parker, Ronald Willard, Walter Kittredge, Roger Adams, Donna Rice Howe, George Stowell, David Patrick, Roberta Gibson Pevear, Carrie Angevine Holt, Darlene Merrill, Sarah Burgess Gartrell, Bonnie Eames Bowden, Dr. Eldred Rolfe, Curtis Cole, Kathryn Wilson Payn, Mark and Heather Hill Ford, Thelma Rolfe Card, Robert B. ## Locke Mills

by Lorraine Larson
October is nearly here, I hope the winter flies as fast as September has. Indeed, the whole summer has, for us anyway, been very pleasant but has whizzed by. My grandmother always said one should not wish time away so I won't, but let's face it, winter for most of us is more of a hardship than summer. For those who ski, well, that is a different story and I'm glad they enjoy it.

I got a call from my son, Ralph Mills, the other day and he said he had gotten to the 22nd Highland Games on Loon Mountain in Lincoln, N.H., back on the weekend of the 13th and 14th of September. He was pleasantly surprised to see Blaine and Margaret Mills there representing the St. Andrews Society of Maine. It is always nice to go to something like that and meet someone from home. He does plan to get to Maine during October, which will be nice since he's planning on spending Christmas in Texas. Since he's never missed a Christmas here he was a little worried how I'd take it. I told him maybe it was time that he did something a little different. Maybe it will make him appreciate a White Christmas a little more or maybe he'll find there's something to be said for the warmth of Texas. Who knows?

Tina Philbrick from Rumford is spending several days of her vacation visiting Debbie and Owen Brown. The Browns report that Kim is doing fine, but would appreciate hearing from anyone who'd care to write or send cards.

Lorraine Larson and Ann Fitzmorris were in Rumford recently, doing some shopping and business.

Miriam Inman
Nine Forward Fellowship members were present for a potluck supper and meeting Monday evening at the home of Marta and Nick Clements. Many plans were made for the upcoming events. On Sunday, Oct. 12, there will be a church and community supper at 5:30 p.m. at Goodwill Hall. There will be a program of pictures and slides by Milton and Eleanor Inman and Joe and Peggy Perham.

The "moving sale" on Oct. 17 and 18 will be held at the Universalist Church from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. There will be furniture, clothing, gowns, books, and odds and ends. The annual craft sale will be on Saturday, Nov. 1 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The next meeting will be on Oct. 27 for a potluck supper with Cynthia Lamb. There will be a "bag sale" after the meeting, and plans will be made for the annual Chicken Pie supper on Nov. 20. Louvie Coffin is at Ledgewood Nursing Home after being discharged from the hospital. Vern and I attended the 87th Infantry Reunion in Kissimmee, Fla., last week for several days.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson
Dick and Marilyn Jones spent the past weekend with Mr. and Mrs. James Farley in the Bar Harbor region.

Wanda Ryerson is working on the night shift at the C.B. Cummings Dowel Mill in Norway. On Wednesday, the 17th of September, there was a Stoneham Church meeting at the vestry with 12 members present. Much business was discussed. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and accepted. On the agenda a new toilet system was talked about. Some changes will have to be made.

On Sept. 20, Carolyn Heino and I went to Saugus, Mass., on business.

Is everybody ready for the Fryeburg Fair? It's such a big fair now, I'm glad they have lots of resting benches around the grounds. The foliage is about a week or two behind this year. Just like me.

Not much news this past week. It's all happening this week and I'll tell you about it next week, which is going to be busy, too.

Troy Nelson is at home now after being at the "Little Camp" at Lake Keewaydin this summer.

Church services will be held at the North Waterford Church during the month of October. See you there?

The Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Hannah F. Richardson Tent 19 hosted a supper at 6 p.m. at the church vestry here on Sept. 24 for the annual Inspection Supper and meeting. Stoneham furnished casseroles, and the other two Tents furnished salads and desserts.

The meeting followed at 7:30 p.m. at the K. of P. Hall with Tent president Lesley Dean presiding. There were seven from Norway Tent 8, six from Bryant Pond Tent 17, seven from the Sons of Veterans, and seven from Stoneham Tent 19. What a nice turnout.

Lesley reported on the National D.U.V. convention which was held in Minneapolis in August.

Sally Sawyer filled in as senior vice president, Alice Hoyt as treasurer, Helvi Cary and Elsie Bonney as color bearers.

Maine Department D.U.V. president Marybeth Jones gave us a few words, as did department inspector Joyce Gouin and department treasurer Elsie Bonney. Ken Butterfield from the Sons of Veterans, department commander Dennis Gray, and the past department commander Otis Evans also spoke.

The charter was draped in memory of past National D.U.V. president Dorothy K. Culantuono, who passed away recently.

Those receiving mystery prizes for the evening were Lucy Brown, Alice Hoyt and Emogene Staples.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and accepted.

The next regular meeting is planned to be at the home of Marybeth Jones in Fryeburg on Wednesday, Oct. 22.

Norman and Grace Farrington from Houston, Texas, are in the area and while here have been visiting Ed and Lois Niemi as well as other relatives.

Girl Scouts in the area will be starting in October. Darlene Dunn will be assistant leader of the Junior Troop 131. Brownies have started meeting at the New Suncook School after school at 2:30 p.m. This is for first, second, and third grades and all are welcome.

North Newry

by
Gil Seeley
The little church in the valley (Newry Community Church) is having a "face lift" (floor), so there will be no services till further notice. Audrey Brooke and her mother and father are doing the work.

The Windy Valley Snowmobile Club will meet Oct. 7 at the Town Building. Don't forget the big lawn sale Oct. 4, starting at 9 a.m. Tables are available at $5 each. Donations of articles, etc., will be appreciated, bring them early. Thank you.

Members of the Newry Bowling Gang were at Oxford Lanes in Rumford one day last week: Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark, Gil Seeley, Eleanor Davis, Bea Lowell and Doris Parent. On the overall scores, Karlene was high on the singles with one string of 103, she also was high on the triples. On the first string Betsy was high, beating Gil by six pins. On the second string, Karlene made her 103 string, and she was also high on the singles, but Doris was high on the triples. All went to lunch and did some shopping.

Autumn... The Indian Summer... The dead summer's soul... To her hie comes the year, not with weeping and distress, as mortals do; but to guide her way to it, all the trees have torches lit.

Divinest Autumn! Who may paint the best, forever changeable, o'er the changeable globe? Who guess thy certain crown, thy favorite crest, the fashion of thy many colored robe?

Greenwood City

by Colista Morgan
This is the day that autumn arrives and what lovely weather we have. Pure sunshine most of the time. How pretty my big rock is made by leaf shadows. Some are particularly clear and distinct, and beyond all art in grace and delicacy, now still as if painted on stone, now gliding softly as if afraid of noise, now dancing, waltzing in swift, merry swirls or leaping on and off sunny rocks. Noble plants, too, in perfect health.

I notice the beauty of fall but a bit of sadness creeps in because my "dear summer" has gone, three days now. During the blessed color days the winds are gentle, and the landscape hushed everywhere, and indescribably impressive. The ducks are usually seen sailing on the pond, apparently more for pleasure than anything else, while squirrels are busy in the groves.

This autumnal mellowness usually lasts into November then come days of quite another kind, our winter, while colors vanish like a sunset.

My "dear summer" knows that and so he is off. His little wings beat so fast in their motions. Most of them go on long migrations across wide stretches of oceans. They range from Hudson Bay to Panama. They must pass over at least 600 miles to reach the Bermudas and 500 miles to cross the Gulf of Mexico to Yucatan and Central America. So goodbye little bird, until you return. I already miss you.

I attended the O.C.R.T.A. group at the Universalist Church in Norway on Saturday. It was an interesting meeting and I enjoyed the day.

Ann Holt was ill on Sunday so we didn't attend church. David and family had to attend a memorial service so they didn't get home either.

Dot Betts had company over the weekend. Milton and Eleanor Inman had several visitors on Sunday. Some of Rena Curtis' family have visited her during the week.

South Woodstock

by Andrea Wing
Sorry my news didn't make the paper last week. Congratulations to Pete and Laurene Appleby for winning $250 in the drawing at the Oxford Fair. Winners had to be present to win and they were real glad they stayed.

Pete, Laurene and Danielle Appleby came by for a visit one night this week.

I was surprised to see the new home Doreen and Harold Wilbur have near their other home. The older home is being razed and the new one is in the back of it. I don't go up that way often and thought it was very nice. I wish them much luck and happiness in the future.

Volunteers have placed jars at various locations to raise money for the Whitman Library expansion. Just from small change over $45 has been collected. With the Stephen King Foundation grant, this becomes $70!

What a nice looking job is being done to the old garage and the new garage of Mike Nadeau here in South Woodstock. Tim Poland and Perry Ryerson are among others doing work on the project.

Kelli Record and Carol Hall attended the Common Ground Fair this past weekend. Richard Wing took his granddaughter, Jessie Hart, to work at Bonanza Saturday as Kelli was at the fair.

Andre Bernier and crew are all done on the cement work on the garage out back of our home. We hope to have the garage built next year. They were very pleasant workers to have around and did a very good job.

Lenny Dillingham is going into the hospital for surgery the middle part of October. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Ian Monzo, Brooke and Ken Grover spent one night last week with their grandmother, Tommy Poland.

Quote of the Week: "I've learned that anytime you think the world is moving too fast, go to the post office."

'Wonderful Town' needs cast and crew

The Mahoosuc Arts Council will produce "Wonderful Town," a musical comedy about two young women from the backwaters of Ohio who find themselves in New York City with conga-crazed Brazilian sailors. "Wonderful Town" is based on the novel "My Sister Eileen." Music for the play was composed by Leonard Bernstein, with lyrics by Comden and Green.

Performances of "Wonderful Town" will be held at Telstar High School on Friday and Saturday evenings and Sunday afternoon, Feb. 20, 21, and 22, 1998. James Thibodeau, music director of Mountain Valley High School, Faye Hill, accompanist from South Paris, and Burt deFrees, formerly stage director of RagTag Peoples Theatre, will hold auditions this month on Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 20 and 21 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. for singers and from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. for movement and dialogue. On Wednesday, Oct. 22, auditions will be from 7 to 9:30 p.m., but without singing. For those notified, "call backs" will be Monday, Oct. 27 from 7 to 9 p.m.

"Wonderful Town," set in Greenwich Village, has a large cast of teenagers and adults, many of whom dance Conga and most sing -- either as soloists or as chorus. There are also a few one-liner actors, as well as non-speaking roles.

For people interested in backstage work, "Wonderful Town" will need carpenters, artists, lighting managers and make-up aides.

While costuming is contemporary, a crew of costume-makers will be needed. Backstage workers will be able to sign up during the audition evenings. Call the Mahoosuc Arts office at 824-3575 for more information.

Berg, Jones & Sarvis at Gould

The Gould Academy Performing Arts Series will begin its season on Thursday, Oct. 9, at 7:30 p.m. with a presentation in Gould's Bingham Auditorium of "Glacial Drift," a performance by the Portland-based dance trio Berg, Jones & Sarvis.

The multi-media performance is the result of a collaboration by the dancers with Sangerville landscape painter Alan Bray and Portland musician Chris Moore. "Glacial Drift" moves its audience through the seasons of a year in Maine, with quirky digressions into the stories of the five artists and the beauty, adversity and humor of their lives in Maine.

Cathy Nelson Price, reviewing the performance in the Portland Press Herald, wrote, "Seldom has the soul of a region been so humorously, yet lovingly, depicted in dance."

Berg, Jones & Sarvis are well-known for their improvisational work at Haystack Mountain School of Crafts on Deer Isle and their artists-in-residence work in schools and communities throughout New England. Their large, site-specific pieces are local legends in the Portland area: a piece for the mayor, police chief, and citizens, performed on the steps of City Hall; a ballet for 23 bicycle riders; and the "Dance of the Sea Dogs," performed by 50 dancers before a game at Hadlock field.

Tickets for Glacial Drift are $6 for adults and $4 for students and are available at the door the evening of the performance. For further information, please contact Vicki Rackliffe at 207-824-3575.

Gould hosts Alumni Weekend 1997

More than 400 alumni from around the world gathered on Gould Academy's campus this weekend to celebrate Alumni Weekend. Included in the crowd were Edna Bean York of Bethel, Thelma Rolfe Card of Norway and Vivian Eagle Barlow of Andover, all members of the 70th reunion class of 1927.

During the weekend festivities, the Gould Academy Alumni Association held its annual meeting and awards ceremony, during which Albert Merrill '51, of Bethel, was elected treasurer to the association's board. The board of 22 also includes local residents Polly Philbrick Davis '45 of Bethel, Nancy Cole Newsom Farmer '62, of Norway and Bethel, and Barbara Merrill-Lapham '55 of Hanover. Alumni Association president

Peter Thurston '75 of Stratham, N.H., formerly of Bethel, announced the Alumni Board's vote to allocate funds to purchase a video camera for the Academy's senior class so that each year the seniors may record their special events, sports and day-to-day lives at Gould Academy. The Board will assist the seniors in editing the final product and will provide a copy of the tape for each graduate.

In addition, the weekend events included reunion class parties, a presentation of "Gould Through the Years" by Stan Howe '62 of the Bethel Historical Society, the annual Frank Vogt Fun Run, and an informal nine-hole scramble at the Bethel Inn & Country Club -- the proceeds of which have been donated to the Academy's annual fund.

This week at the

Moses Mason House

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society are reminded that the next meeting will be held on Thursday, Oct. 2, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Featured during the program portion of the meeting will be the annual "What's It." Those attending are urged to bring an unusual artifact from the past to discuss during this time. Following this, an oral history panel discussion will take place on the 1947 fires that created so much havoc in so many parts of the state 50 years ago this year. Persons with memories of those difficult times are especially urged to attend to share their recollections.

The Guy P. Gannett Publishing Company published a 16-page pictorial review in the fall of 1947, which contains many photographs of the devastation that these fires left in their wake. A copy of the issue will be available for those attending to view. To learn more about this era, come and hear from those who lived through it. Everyone is welcome.

The 1997 Annual Fund Campaign of the Bethel Historical Society has passed the $7,500 level from 271 donors. Among the most recent contributors are: Perry Chapman Jr., Limington, in memory of Perry Chapman Sr.; Fillmore and Shirley Clough, Bethel, in memory of Millard Clough; Margaret Joy Tibbetts, Bethel, in memory of W. Ashby Tibbetts and Mary Tibbetts Freeman; Colleen F. Boyd, West Bethel; Carolyn Nygren, Medford, Mass., in memory of Ethel Nygren; Priscilla Wiley, Woodbury, Conn., in memory of Ruth Carver Ames. Much appreciation is expressed to all of the above for their generosity. Those wishing to help the society meet its ongoing expenses of operations should send tax-deductible contributions to the society at P.O. Box 12, Bethel, ME 04217-0012.

Jackson-Silver Aux.

The latest meeting was held on Sept. 18. Those on the committee for the Richard Felt benefit supper reported having met with the Grange committee and that plans have been completed. There is hope for a large crowd to attend this supper and dance.

It was reported that a number of members had attended the barbecue picnic at the Veterans Home in South Paris on Sept. 13. Those who had not previously volunteered there were much impressed by the experience and hope to be able to help again in the future.

Three members attended the meeting of the Oxford County Council Legion Auxiliary at South Paris on Sept. 17. They were sorry to hear of the illness of past department commander Vito DeFilipp of Rumford. Other members expect to attend the Fall Conference in Waterville on the 27th.

In addition to the benefit supper for Richard Felt on Sept. 23, members are planning for a Harvest Supper and dance on Oct. 14. That will be the last monthly supper and dance of this year and the dance music will be supplied by the Parisians.

The Legion and Auxiliary will meet again on Oct. 2, and on Oct. 16 will have the annual Girls State and Boys State supper. At that time the young people who attended those mock government sessions in June will report on their experiences and what they learned from them.

From the

Waterford Historical Society

The October meeting of the Waterford Historical Society will be held Thursday, Oct. 9 at the Wesleyan Chapel in South Waterford which is located at the intersection of Mill Hill Road and routes 35 and 37. Following a short business meeting, which will begin at 7 p.m., George Jones, chairman of the Department of Social Studies at Oxford Hills High School, along with several students, will present a program about an integrated-studies course of U.S. History and American Literature. The course, required of all juniors, is an example of "education on the cutting edge" since it seeks to feature the interrelation of history and the arts as they unfolded together in this country and in this local area.

As we are all teachers and students of history, the public is encouraged to attend and to bring a dessert to share for refreshments after the program. Still on view for this month's meeting is the Bicentennial Art Show which features paintings by local artists of Waterford over several generations.

The society offers two volumes of Waterford's History, one covering the years from the settling of the town in 1775-1875 is available for $12 and the second volume, richly illustrated with photos, covers 1875 to 1976 for $10. Together, the volumes cost $20 and would make a fine gift. The books can be purchased at the Town Hall, Tut's Store, Knight Library, or write to Box 201, Waterford, ME 04088.

From the

Andover Public Library

As many of you have noticed, the dedicated volunteers finally finished painting the library this summer, some landscaping was planted, the sagging basement floor and rotten beams were repaired, and the basement was refinished. All this work was done with volunteer labor to save the town money and to preserve a historic building.

Library members wish to express sincere thanks to those who helped this summer: Don Wardwell, Trudy Akers, Tim Akers, Paul Trainor, Penny Poor, Maria Cornwell, John Berg, Earle Towne, Alexis Burgi, Brad Thibodeau, Jim Mulvaney, Jim Bodwell, Charlie Glazier, Dale McKay, Karen McKay, Casey and Kegan McDonough, Marshall Meisner, Lida Iles and Bob Iles.

Thanks also to the Trainors for permitting the Blaine House Service Corp. workers to use their campground while the service group helped the volunteers for a few days; to Steve Swasey for the loan and railroad ties he contributed; to Woody Greeke for professional advice and the contribution of a water heater; and to the Mills family for the lovely dwarf spruce trees given in memory of their grandmother, Margaret Learned, who was librarian for 38 years.

The library staff apologizes if anyone's name has been omitted -- there were so many who helped. Thanks again to all of you.

From the

Bethel Area C. of C.

Many thanks to the Bethel Historical Society for hosting a Business After Hours last Monday and for bringing the chamber members up to date on the society's capital expansion plans. Donations to the society for the capital expansion can be sent to P.O. Box 12, Bethel, ME 04217-0012, and should indicate "Capital Campaign."

The Membership Committee would like to invite all new members of the chamber (those who have joined in 1997) to a New Members Reception at the chamber office in the Bethel Train Station on Monday, Oct. 6, from 6 to 7 p.m. Refreshments will be available.

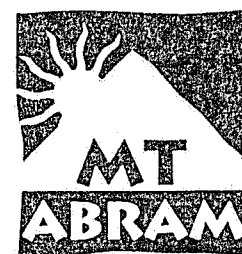

October Business After Hours is scheduled for Monday, Oct. 20, at the Crocker Pond House on the Northwest Bethel Road from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Business people having concerns about signage in and around the village of Bethel are encouraged to attend a meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 15, at 6 p.m., location to be announced. In an attempt to have everyone's views heard, it is important to have a good representation of business people in the Bethel village and in the surrounding areas.

Chamber members are reminded that in order to take advantage of the best discount, season ski passes to Sunday River should be purchased by Oct. 14.
